Nelson Mandela's dramatic life and extraordinary character are explored through this powerful drama. The production aims to asks questions rather than give answers, to use documentary and fiction. The play examines also Nelson Mandela's private life, revealing him as a human being rather than an icon, the troubled relationship his wife, Winnie, is central to the play. This is the story of both of these figures, man and woman, modern saint and flawed fighter. The production is written by Paul Stebbings, and follows in the footsteps of his highly successful THE LIFE AND DEATH OF MARTIN LUTHER KING, which has toured throughout Europe for three years. As in all productions by TNT theatre, music and choreography will compliment the stage action, which will be dynamic and develop powerful physical and visual imagery. A cast of veteran British and South African performers will present the play.
